Making a difference 2017

Dear fellow member,

I am honoured to represent you as the new chair of the Irish Green Building Council. The IGBC is a passionate, inspirational and dedicated community promoting sustainable and quality buildings for everyone, everywhere in Ireland.

2017 has been an excellent year for the IGBC. The strong growth in construction activity has led to a major increase in membership, among which are many of Ireland's most innovative and forward-looking businesses and institutions. We now see the entire building value chain from owners, developers, consultants, products manufacturers to real estate agents contributing to the success of sustainable building. Thanks to your support, the IGBC led an extensive stakeholder consultation process that delivered to Government a detailed set of recommendations for a vigorous national energy renovation strategy. Staying at the forefront of innovation, we launched an Environmental Product Declarations Platform to enable the mainstreaming of life cycle assessment for buildings in Ireland.

But much progress remains to be made. 2018 promises to be another exciting period of change and growth for the IGBC. We will build on the success of the exacting Home Performance Index certification scheme to promote sustainable housing and planning at local and national levels. This will be backed by a comprehensive programme to upskill building professionals in sustainability and by a pilot programme to develop energy efficient mortgages in conjunction with some Irish banks.

Organisations like yours are the driving force behind the transformation of the Irish construction and property sector into a global leader in quality and sustainability. I would like to thank you for your continued support of IGBC, and I look forward to seeing you at one of the many events scheduled for the coming year.

Wishing you and your organisation a successful 2018

...Supporting Ireland's National energy renovation strategy

In February 2017, the Irish Green Building Council presented a set of recommendations for a better national renovation strategy to Minister Denis Naughten T.D. The report emerged from a consultation process during 2016 with a wide range of almost 200 stakeholders conducted by the IGBC in conjunction with the Department of Climate Action.

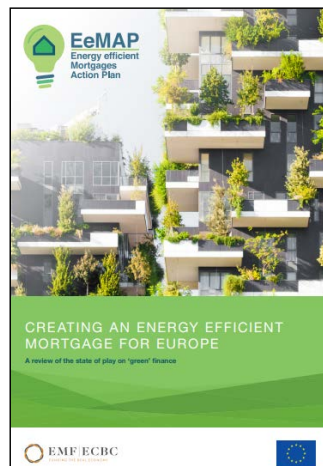

“Through its drive and commitment, the IGBC successfully brought together a wide range of diverse stakeholders to identify and propose solutions to the challenges and opportunities we face in upgrading our homes and businesses.”

Minister Denis Naughten T.D.

To support large scale energy renovation, the IGBC is now working on two exciting projects.

Developing a framework for a customer-friendly energy efficiency accreditation for building professionals.

Piloting energy efficient mortgages in Ireland from June 2018.
